

two of these stop being lengths at all: the zone filler prunes with ten per cent of the half zone minimum width rather than a constant, and squared distances widen to `int64`, so the 46 µm limit disappears rather than moving down the axis